Report of N.H. Wilson,
Agent, Surplus Revenue

It may be proper to state, that Wm H.H. Scott, was the acting agent of this County, during the greater part of the time comprehended by this report, and no report being made by him of a later date than July 1841. The

Vermillion County
Commissioner's Record 3

undersigned thought it advisable to let this one reach back to that time.

All of which is respectfully submitted

N.H. Wilson, Agent

To the Hon the Board of Commissioners of the County of Vermillion and State of Indiana. In pursuance of the provisions of an act of the General assembly, entitled and act to amend an act entitled an act to provide for distributing so much of the surplus revenue of the United States, as the State of Indiana may be entitled to and receive by virtue of an act of Congress approved 23d of June 1836 approved February 6th 1837, approved January 31st 1842. I proceeded on the 31st day of August last to examine the books, Mortgages, notes &c in the hands of Nathaniel H. Wilson; and as the result of my investigation, I can say that the Books and papers are regularly kept and in good order, the loans are generally well secured and I do not apprehend any loss to the fund ultimately except in the case of $300 loaned to Peter Smith, who gave in security a mortgage on real estate on which there was a previous loan for a considerable amount yet the agent is of opinion (and I think he is probaly correct) that the premises ~~is~~ of sufficient value, or will be in time to satisfy the whole of the liabilities; and here I would remark that this state of things did not arise from any negligence on the part of Dr. Scott who was at that time the agent.

Vermillion County

There is one other subject which I deem of sufficient importance to be laid before the Board in this report that is this; many of the borrowers of the Surplus Revenue have failed one or more years to pay the interest upon thier loans annually in advance as it becomes due. The effect of this course is that the interest which is part of the Common School fund, is not made available as such at the time contemplated by law or desired by the people for whose use it was appropriated. I am authorized to say that any instructions you may think proper to give the agent upon the subject will be duly considered.

Respectfully submitted

Upon the application of James West, made to this Board alleging that a mistake had arisen in valuing his property for taxation, both real and personal, as he supposes by a misconstruction of the law, by the officers, whose duty it was to fix the value of taxable property, within the County. The Board have not been furnished with sufficient evidence to enable them to determine that the personal property of the said James West has been erroneously valued. The Board are also of opinion that the grievances complained of in the said petition are proper subjects to be laid before the County Board of Equalization, and that this Board is not the proper authority to determine upon application of a similar kind.

THE SIXTH EDITION

The first edition of this book was published in 1900, and it has since then been revised and enlarged many times. The present edition is the sixth, and it contains many new chapters and sections, and it is much more complete than any of the previous editions. It is a book which will be found useful to all who are interested in the history and geography of the world, and it is a book which will be found interesting to all who are interested in the progress of civilization.

The book is divided into two main parts, the first of which deals with the history of the world, and the second of which deals with the geography of the world. The first part is divided into six chapters, and the second part is divided into six chapters. The first chapter of the first part deals with the prehistoric period, and the second chapter deals with the ancient period. The third chapter deals with the middle ages, and the fourth chapter deals with the modern period. The fifth chapter deals with the present, and the sixth chapter deals with the future. The first chapter of the second part deals with the physical geography of the world, and the second chapter deals with the political geography of the world. The third chapter deals with the economic geography of the world, and the fourth chapter deals with the social geography of the world. The fifth chapter deals with the cultural geography of the world, and the sixth chapter deals with the human geography of the world.

Which report being publicly read and no objection being made to the said proposed road, it is therefore ordered that the said road be opened to the width of forty feet, and that henceforth it be kept in repair as a public highway, of which the Supervisors of Highways are to take notice.

The Board have this day examined the bond given by Sarah Hars in compliance with the order of the Board of Commissioners at March Session, 1839, in relation to the establishment of a Ferry across the Wabash River opposite Montezuma, which was filed in the Office of the Clerk on the 19th day of April 1839, but never formally approved by the Board, which said bond (with the sureties, John Vanduyne and Ashley Harris) is now approved, and thereupon Joseph Hopkins, Guardian for the Infant heirs to whom the ferry belongs, produced the collectors receipt for fourteen dollars, being the amount of Ferry tax due upon the said Ferry.

the first of the reign of Henry the Seventh, the king was at the battle of Tewkesbury, where he defeated the forces of Edward of Lancaster, the son of Edward IV. This battle was the last of the Wars of the Roses, and it marked the end of the Plantagenet dynasty. Henry the Seventh then became the undisputed king of England.

Henry the Seventh was a very successful king. He was a strong and determined ruler, and he was able to bring the country back to a state of peace and prosperity. He was also a very clever politician, and he was able to secure the throne for his family. He was married to Elizabeth of York, the daughter of Edward IV, and this marriage helped to bring an end to the Wars of the Roses. Henry the Seventh was a very popular king, and he was loved by his subjects. He was a very good ruler, and he was able to bring the country back to a state of peace and prosperity.
